Hammonton, Waterford, & Folsom SEPAG: Special Education Parent Advisory Group

What is a Special Education Parent Advisory Group (SEPAG)?

A Special Education Parent Advisory Group, or SEPAG (sea-pag) is a state-mandated, district-level, parent-driven group charged with providing input to the local school district on system-level challenges in special education and related services.

Why should I get involved with my local SEPAG?

A SEPAG gives parents the opportunity to provide direct input to their school district about policies, programs, practices, and services that have an impact on students with disabilities and their families. An effective SEPAG can increase the proactive involvement of families by inviting input that can be used to shape local special education policy.

A SEPAG should be structured to benefit all students with disabilities, not just a single group of students, or a single issue. The more inclusive a SEPAG is, the more opportunities there are to achieve positive outcomes. To read more about the role and function of a SEPAG, the Statewide Parent Advocacy Network (SPAN) network provides an online packet that can be found at <http://www.spanadvocacy.org/sites/default/files/files/SEPAG%20Guide%20Updated%2008-16-17.pdf>
